

Success is feeling loved by God

By Elise L. Moore C.S.B.

Success is feeling loved by God, feeling approval of God filling one's heart and mind. Money, friends, family, job or accomplishments never seem enough and often involve factors beyond our human control. But we can always turn humbly to God and feel his/her love and inspiration. Listening for God's angel messages and obeying them lead to a more productive and satisfying human life.

Readers describe the meaning of a successful life.

Tennessean.com

January 6, 2003